The Board may conduct an investigation or designate an individual to investigate and issue a report.

At any time during a meeting or interview concerning a complaint, both the employee lodging the complaint and the person against whom the complaint has been lodged has the right to be represented and accompanied by a person of his or her choice.

The Library recognizes and acknowledges that, under Bill 132, an inspector from the Ontario Ministry of Labour has the power to order the Board, as employer, to have an impartial third party conduct an investigation, at the Library's expense, and report the outcome of their findings to the complainant.

The CEO, or his or her designate, will initiate a confidential investigation immediately and finish within 30 days. Throughout the process, the investigator will keep all parties informed; interview the witnesses and employee concerned; collect evidence; prepare a report; and inform the parties, in writing, of the decision and the underlying reasons for the decision. The CEO or his or her designate will advise the Board when the investigation has been completed.

The CEO is responsible for imposing any disciplinary or corrective measures.

Any employee may file a complaint with the Ontario Human Rights Commission when the harassment or discrimination is related to one or more of the Human Rights Code's prohibited grounds - race, ancestry, place of origin, colour, ethnic origin, citizenship, creed (religion), sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, record of offences, marital status, family status or disability.
